2015 This review is for a free 30-day evaluation license key from RapidReports. Summary: RapidReports is a dynamic e-mail marketing service that enables you to send newsletters, pre-written emails, and message-in-a-box to your customers, subscribers and other contacts. One of the features that set this service apart from others is the ability to add lead magnets to each of your campaigns. This is useful for generating more sales leads and building a customer list over time. RapidReports provides an easy-to-use dashboard that lets you do a lot in a short amount of time. The dashboard lets you send e-mails and edit the entire content of the e-mails, which means that you can design your messages and send them out in no time. The dashboard is available on several platforms including iPhone, Android and Blackberry. Lead magnet feature

Another feature that makes RapidReports different from other services is the ability to generate lead magnets. Lead magnets are valuable assets for generating qualified leads, converting more customers and increasing your sales. With the lead magnet feature, you can customize and send out your content via a form that generates the form and displays it to customers and prospects. You can use the form to collect information or call to action (CTA) and enable customers to opt-in to your database. In addition, the lead magnets will let you track your results and know which pieces are working and which ones are not. The lead magnet feature also provides a list of the customers who signed up for your database, which means that you will have more insight on what kind of content your customers are responding to and how effective it is at converting new customers. RapidReports Review: RapidReports is a dynamic e-mail marketing service that enables you to send newsletters, pre-written emails, and message-in-

Macro engine for classic ASP, ASP.Net and PHP script languages. The following languages are supported: - ASP - ASP.Net - PHP - JSP - Cold Fusion - Oracle SOA - Perl CGI - PHP/MySQL - jQuery - VBScript - Oracle KEYMACRO is a powerful, flexible, easy-to-use, yet extremely powerful macro engine for classic ASP, ASP.Net and PHP. Most scripting languages use an implicit call to their own back-end interpreter when processing macros or inline code. Since KEYMACRO is a compiler it has an explicit macro language with blocks that are compiled at runtime by the script engine. This makes it much easier to code and debug macros. KEYMACRO provides you with a powerful macro development framework with a consistent macro syntax, debug scripts, source-level macro debugging, error tracing and more. KEYMACRO is a runtime compiler that runs in the browser or on your desktop/server/laptop/cell phone. The actual script code is compiled and executed at runtime, it is not executed on your hard drive as it is for other scripting languages. Macros are regular pieces of code that can be embedded in your script and your website. They are executed at runtime, and do not have to be written in the same language as the main script. They are powerful, and allow your scripts to automatically handle many tasks and simplify the most complex tasks. They can be as simple as opening a web page, or as complex as doing an SQL query or interacting with a web service.

KEYMACRO also provides a very simple yet powerful client-side macro development framework that allows you to create macros with a similar syntax to the one used in their execution. If you prefer using your own software for development and debugging, you can use the convenient and powerful IDE to develop your macros. The IDE will run your script on your local computer, so you can use the source editor to edit the script and compile it, it will also show you errors and warnings at the source-level.

KEYMACRO allows you to embed macros in your website and execute them in the browser, server, desktop, cell phone or anywhere else you choose.

You can write macros in any of the following languages: - ASP - ASP.Net - PHP - JSP - Cold Fusion - Oracle SOA - Perl CGI - PHP/MySQL - jQuery - VBScript 77a5ca646e
